The EGSA Handbook

The Engineering Graduate Student Association was founded in October of 1998 with the goal of unifying the engineering community at Cornell by facilitating and encouraging interaction between graduate students, researchers, and faculty in Cornell’s College of Engineering. In addition to compiling The EGSA Handbook, this group runs a variety of activities for members of the engineering community and provides a forum to express engineering graduate student interests at Cornell.

egsa@cornell.edu
www.egsa.cornell.edu

"The handbook is a ‘must read’ for all Engineering graduate students. EGSA has provided in this book a wealth of information, insight, and practical guidance." — Kent Fuchs, Joseph Silbert Dean of Engineering

V2.3

Engineering Graduate Life
at Cornell University

The EGSA Handbook
A Guide to Engineering Student Association